

Representative Porter of the 143rd et al. move to amend HR 237 by adding after line 36 on page 2 the following:

"Because of the complexities involved and the difficulty in applying these standards, the General Assembly finds that it would be better served by having all future redistricting matters handled by an independent commission appointed by the leadership of both parties in the House of Representatives and the Senate and chaired by an individual agreed upon by the members of the commission."
